DIED
This Thursday Morning, Mr. Horace Westenhaver, of Apoplexy.

—Weather.
—Rest for the quail. Too cold to hunt.
—Thermometer at 10 Wednesday morning.
—Crossing is being relaid near Court House.

—Youthful burglars have been playing our town.

—District M. E. Conference in session here this week.

—Notice the new ad. of Baskin & Wolinsky this week.

—Judge Owens—Court Scenes.

—Tonight—Presbyterian Church.

—Miss Jennie Dollison visited Straitsville a few days last week.

—The school boys will probably have ice sufficient for skating, Thanksgiving.

—Gen. Gage has been appointed deputy marshal in connection with his duties as a fruit officer.

—Dick McCarthy of Ashland, Wis. and Dr. Ira Hamblin of the Columbus Avium are visiting in Logan this week.

—Howarth's trip through Ireland last Tuesday evening, was accompanied by a blizzard. The Irish "Nager" was below zero.

—A photograph of a star started in our town this week, but few people being simple enough to bite, it sailed away.

—Passenger trains have been delayed somewhat on the C. H. V. & T. the past week, because of the heavy freight transportation.

—Many from here attended the exercise at the laying of the corner stone of the new Epileptic Asylum at Gallipolis, last Thursday.

—Rev. Dr. D. Moore, editor of the Western Christian Advocate, will be at Webb Summit Sunday, to dedicate the new M. E. Church at that place.

—Tom Rochester has covered the floor of the Sentinel office with the latest and handsomest carpet west of the Alleghenies. Come in and see it. This is a good time to subscribe.

—Rochester's are so busily employed this week in making the immense stock of goods just received that they have not the time to write in full an Advertisement. It will be published next week.

—Stiers Co. next week will begin the publication of a second chapter in the interesting chronicle they give our readers of the choice a d abut articles kept in their store and displayed on their counters.

—Rev. Lewis, Presiding Elder in this district, delivered the opening sermon of the Conference Tuesday evening. The sermon was an able one. We congratulate the Lancaster District on their good fortune in having Rev. Lewis as Presiding Elder.

—New carpet on the floor; new paper on the walls and ceiling of the Sentinel office; $200.50 of new Advertising; and eleven new subscribers this week, makes Thanksgiving come to us a week in advance, come we hope to stay, and give additional cheer to our semi-centennial anniversary next April, when the flowers bloom in the spring.

—Col. Craig, the enterprising warm haired editor of the Athens Journal was in the city on last Monday. He made us a pleasant call, and his glowing briar rose grew more vivid as he gazed upon the fresh and healthy and democratic adornments of the fifty years Sentinel. We hope Bro. Craig will come to see us often and continue on his trip at election time.

"Little Trixie" is one of the really good musical farce comedies and May Smith Robbins one of the best comedettes it has been our pleasure to witness. — Detroit Tribune. Rempel's Opera House, Friday Nov. 20.

Obituary.

Willie Westenhaver was born in Missouri, Nov. 21, 1837 and died in Logan O. Nov. 9, 1891 in the 54th year of his age.

About sixteen years ago in a series of revival services held in Logan by the writer, he was awakened, converted and after acceptably serving out his probation he was received into full membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church in this place.

As his pastor was soon after transferred to another charge, it was not his privilege to witness the growth, and aid in fostering his spiritual life.

The last eight years of his life were spent in business in Chicago. Those who knew him best say he was faithful not only in business but in his religious duties attending upon the services of God's house.

About five weeks ago he left Chicago for his home in this place, and about a week after a living he was taken down with Typhoid fever, and on last Monday took his departure out of this world. Thus in the prime of life and vigor of young manhood, in four short weeks he is one dear to his relatives, loved and respected by his associates, passed away in the strength of his manhood, and in the hour of his usefulness.

His short and uncertain life, though he is ready, for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.

The funeral service was at the home of his father, Mr. Horace Westenhaver, conducted by Rev. J. E. Williams, assisted by Rev. J. W. Loebeck. The remains were followed to Oak Grove cemetery by a large concourse of people, where they were deposited to await the resurrection morn.

Mary Barnes was born in the year 1808 and died in Logan, O. Nov. 6, 1891 in the 84 year of her age. Mrs. Barnes was married twice. Her maiden name was Park. She married her first husband Mr. John Anderson in Glasgow, Scotland, Aug. 3, 1829. To them was born ten children; seven sons and three daughters, four of whom survive her, one son and the three daughters. Her second marriage was with Mr. Nathan Barnes in Logan, O. Oct. 26, '53. Mr. Barnes died Feb. 20, '87. Since then Mrs. Barnes has made her home mostly with her daughter Mrs. Montgomery of this place. Many years ago she united with the Methodist Episcopal church in Logan in which communion she lived a faithful and devoted member until her death. Except when providentially hindered, Sister Barnes was always in her place in the church services at public preaching, class meeting, prayer meeting, and love-feast, ready always to give an answer to every one that asked her a reason of the hope that was in her with meekness and fear. It was my privilege to be her pastor four years. In my pastoral visits I found for a devout christian, who relished the word of God, prayer and religious conversation. A lady of rare mind, broad intelligence and cheerful piety.

Last March she was attacked with La-Grippe from which she never recovered being confined to her room and bed till last Friday evening about ten o'clock. She gently fell asleep in Jesus. She bore her affliction with fortitude and christian resignation, saving to her friends and relatives, "I am just waiting for Jesus to come and take me home."

"Behold the Western evening light."

Her remains in deepening gloom; So calmly Christians sink away, Descending to the tomb."

The funeral services were conducted in the M. E. Church by her pastor Rev. J. W. Loebeck assisted by Rev. Moore and Williams. A large concourse of people followed the remains to Oak Grove cemetery where they were deposited to await the resurrection morn.

Revised Time card next week.

The performance of Little Trixie at the Opera House Saturday night was the best ever produced in this city. The play is replete with fun from beginning to end. May Smith Robbins, as Little Trixie, was simply immense. Her changes of character were wonderful.

Hammond, Ind. Daily Standard. Rempel's Opera House, Friday Nov. 20.

Few musical comedies have appeared in Pittsburgh which were better than "Little Trixie," with May Smith Robbins, a pleasurably comedienne, in the title role. Other clever people were in the cast, which includes Fred Robbins, a comedian of no mean ability. — Pittsburgh, (Pa.) Daily Times. Rempel's Opera House, Friday Nov. 20.
